SIMPLE YET EFFECTIVE METHODOLOGY AT THE CORE OF LEAN THINKING

In this session you will have the opportunity to hone your problem identification skills and practice simple yet effective problem solving methodology to formulate successful solutions.

You will have time to work on your “burning issues” with take away tools and templates that can be used back in the workplace.

Lead facilitator Anthony Clyne from TXM has a deep understanding of lean thinking and experience in sharing his learnings to enable them to achieve impressive lasting results. He has experience in many industry sectors and industries. TXM is a leading Australian Lean Manufacturing consulting company
